

The World Music Foundation

Our percentage of return visitors has tripled and our average session length has quadrupled since we began working with CrazyChickenTech, but that's only half of the story. I've been surprised to find their methods to be equally as valuable as their results! Joe Dostie and his team at CrazyChickenTech created and maintain our new website by actively listening to and genuinely understanding our goals and have partnered with us to implement the necessary technologies for meeting and exceeding them. This invested approach saved us countless hours during the design stage and continues to keep our site agile and responsive as CrazyChickenTech remains on-board much more as a team member than an outside contractor. Without reservation I wholeheartedly recommend CrazyChickenTech to anyone in need of a beautiful new website or help maintaining what they have; you can visit any of their sites and experience the visual impact and intuitive functionality that they provide, but I'm here to tell you that the attentive serve that they provide behind the scenes is just as stunning!
